1. Construction is underway on a large Polish Airfield to be built in the vicinity of the eastern suburb of Warsaw at Goclawek, south of the Warsaw-Minsk Mazowiecki highway.
2. When completed, this field is to be Poland's largest and most modern air installation. The area has been drained and leveled, and progress has been made in hangar and runway construction. It is understood the runways are to be very long and sufficiently strong to accommodate jet craft and heavy bombers.
3. This field is scheduled for completion by the summer of 1950.

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.
